WHERE TO GO

You can learn about family planning and child spacing at the address below:

This pamphlet distributed by
PLANNED PARENTHOOD FEDERATION OF AMERICA, INC.
501 Madison Avenue
New York 22, N.Y.

"EVERY CHILD A WANTED CHILD"

Planned Parenthood is a service mark registered in the U.S. Patent Office

40M-6/57
A WORD ABOUT YOUR NEXT BABY

Like other American mothers you want to have strong, healthy children who will be a credit to their parents and to their country.

You and your husband needn't be rich to be good parents. There are millions of families with small incomes in which children grow up to be healthy and useful citizens. But a baby does need some things which you should be prepared to give him — healthy parents, a happy home, good food, sunshine and outdoor play. That's why it's important that you plan your children.

ABOUT UNPLANNED BABIES

Most people would think it silly to start building a house, a bridge, or an automobile before they had some kind of a plan to help them build it. But there are still lots of parents who start to build a human life without giving careful thought as to whether their baby will begin life in good health or whether they will be able to give it a decent home and care.

More babies have been born in the United States in the past few years than at any other time in our history. The country needs babies, of course, but it needs them healthy and wanted by their parents. Some parents are still having a baby when the mother is not well. This may mean a baby who starts life with the handicap of illness.

Some babies are still being born too soon after an older brother or sister. This means the mother has less strength to care for her whole family.

Some are being born into families where the parents already have more than they can do to care for the other children. This means for all children in the family less food, less chance for education and play, and less care and love, which may lead to delinquency and crime.

None of the babies born under these conditions have the chance, which parents should give them, of growing up strong, healthy, and happy.

SPACE YOUR BABIES

Your doctor will tell you that you should be well and strong before you start to have a baby. He will tell you too that your children have a better chance of being healthy if they are born around two years apart, rather than only a year apart. When babies are born two years or more apart, mother and baby are healthier. Furthermore, babies do cost money, and so more time between them gives the family budget a chance to recover, too.

WAYS TO PLAN YOUR CHILDREN

Birth control can help you plan your children so that you can have the number of babies you want and have them at times when you and your husband are well and able to take care of them. Birth control means the use of medically approved methods to postpone pregnancy until you are ready for it. The method your doctor advises for you is harmless and safe.

Planning your children does not only mean being able to wait until you are well enough and able to take care of a baby. Family planning also means being able to have your baby when you do want it. Sometimes couples find that for some reason the wife does not become pregnant. New discoveries in medicine give fresh hope to couples who find they cannot have children when they want them.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED

In order that you will have a better understanding of the means of family planning here are the answers to the questions which people most often ask:

What is birth control?

It is a safe and simple way to plan for your children and to have them when you want them.

Is it an operation?

It is not an operation of any kind.

Is it an abortion?

Definitely not. An abortion kills the life of a baby after it has begun. It is dangerous to your life and health. It may make you sterile so that when you want a child you cannot have it. Birth control merely postpones the beginning of life.

Is birth control harmful?

As long as a doctor prescribes the method of birth control which suits you best, birth control cannot hurt you in any way.
Will it keep me from having a baby when we want another?

No. When you want another child, you simply stop using birth control. You will then be as free as before to have a baby.

Is birth control immoral?

No, for it has been approved by most of the organized church groups of the Protestant and Jewish faiths. The Catholic Church recognizes the need for family regulation but approves only of the "rhythm" method rather than accepted medically prescribed methods. Religious organizations which have endorsed birth control include: Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America (Committee on Marriage and the Home) and the Central Conference of American Rabbis.

Will birth control change the natural relations between my husband and me?

No. It should make married life happier because you will not be afraid of having a baby when you are not ready for one.

Should I buy birth control products sold in drug stores or advertised in magazines?

You should buy only those that have been prescribed for you by a doctor.

Products not listed by the American Medical Association may be unsafe or injurious.

Where can I learn how to use birth control?

A doctor trained in the best methods of birth control can teach you. First, ask your own doctor. If he cannot help you, or if you have no doctor, the address on the back cover will tell you where you can go to see a doctor about planning your children.

How much will birth control advice cost?

Never more than you can pay. Help will not be refused to those who need it.

What if I want a baby and can't have one?

Again you need the advice of a doctor. Many couples don't have children because of conditions which can be easily corrected by a doctor who is an expert in that line. If your doctor can't help you, he will tell you of one who can or you can go to the address on the back cover and obtain the name of a doctor who is trained to help you.
WHERE TO GO

You can learn about birth control at the address below:

Published by

PLANNED PARENTHOOD — WORLD POPULATION
515 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022

"EVERY CHILD A WANTED CHILD"

Planned Parenthood is a service mark registered in the U.S. Patent Office

75M-11/64
A WORD ABOUT YOUR NEXT BABY

Like other American mothers you want to have strong, healthy children who will be a credit to their parents and to their country.

You and your husband needn't be rich to be good parents. There are millions of families with small incomes in which children grow up to be healthy and useful citizens. But a baby does need some things which you should be prepared to give him — healthy parents, a happy home, good food, sunshine and outdoor play. That's why it's important that you plan your children.

ABOUT UNPLANNED BABIES

Most people would think it silly to start building a house, a bridge, or an automobile before they had some kind of a plan to help them build it. But there are still lots of parents who start to build a human life without giving careful thought as to whether their baby will begin life in good health or whether they will be able to give it a good home and care.

More babies have been born in the United States in the past few years than at any other time in our history. The country needs babies—if they are healthy and wanted by their parents.

Some babies are still being born too soon after an older brother or sister. This means the mother has less strength to care for her whole family. Some parents are still having babies when the mother is not well. This may mean that some babies start life with the handicap of illness.

Some are being born into families where the parents already have more than they can do to care for the other children. This means for all children in the family less food, less chance for education and play, and less care and love, which may lead to delinquency and crime.

Few babies born under these conditions have the chance, which parents should give them, of growing up strong, healthy, and happy.

SPACE YOUR BABIES

Your doctor will tell you that you should be well and strong before you start to have another baby. He will tell you too that your children have a better chance of being healthy if they are born around two years apart, rather than only a year apart. When babies are born two years or more apart, mother and baby are healthier. Furthermore, babies do cost money, and so more time between them gives the family budget a chance to recover, too.

WAYS TO PLAN YOUR CHILDREN

Birth control can help you plan your children so that you can have the number of babies you want and have them when you and your husband are well and able to take care of them. Birth control means the use of medically approved methods to postpone pregnancy until you are ready for it. The method your doctor advises for you is safe to use.

Planning your children does not only mean being able to wait until you are well enough and able to take care of a baby. Family planning also means being able to have your baby when you do want one. Sometimes couples find that for some reason the wife does not become pregnant. New discoveries in medicine give fresh hope to couples who find they cannot have children when they want them.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED

In order that you will have a better understanding of the means of family planning here are the answers to the questions which people most often ask:

What is birth control?

It is a safe and simple way to plan for your children and to have them when you want them.

Is birth control harmful?

A variety of birth control methods have been approved by leading medical authorities. The safety of these methods has been demonstrated by extensive tests.

Will it keep me from having a baby when we want another?

No. When you want another child, you simply stop using birth control. You will then be as free as before to have a baby.

Is birth control immoral?

No. Members of all faiths can select a method approved by their religion. Medical methods have been approved by most Protestant and Jewish groups. The Roman Catholic Church recognizes the need for family regulation but approves only the “rhythm” method. Religious groups which have endorsed birth control include Episcopalians, Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians, Reform and Conservative Jews, Lutherans and many others.

Will birth control change sex relations?

No. It should make married life happier because you will not be afraid of becoming pregnant when you are not ready.

Should I buy birth control products sold in drug stores or advertised in magazines?

You should buy only those that have been prescribed for you by a doctor or are advertised as true birth control products. Products sold for “feminine hygiene” are not effective for birth control.

Where can I learn how to use birth control?

See your doctor or write to the address on the back cover for information.

How much will birth control advice cost?

Never more than you can pay. Help will not be refused to those who need it.

What if I want a baby and can’t have one?

Again you need the advice of a doctor. Many couples don’t have children because of conditions which can be easily corrected by a doctor who is an expert in that field. If your doctor can’t help you, he will tell you of one who can or you can go to the address on the back cover and obtain the name of a doctor who is trained to help you.